

Randall Wong '99 was back on campus visiting friends in the performing arts department. He just released the CD Akamai Brain Collective.

Randy Wong has just released the CD Akamai Brain Collective with partners Eric Lagrimas and Abe Labrimas, Jr. Randy earned a bachelor of music degree from New England Conservatory in Boston, Massachusetts, and will complete the work for a master of arts degree in education at Harvard University this June. Randy, who plays bass, describes his first CD as a collection of progressive Hawaiian music. Learn more about Randy and his music at www.randywong.net.

Kristina (Kennard) Guidry '99, and husband Ben Guidry became parents on December 17, 2003. Their daughter, Tamara Leilani Guidry, weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces, and was 18 1/2 inches long. She is doing great and keeping her mommy and daddy VERY BUSY!!! Little Tammy and Kristina will be in Hawaii in March for four to five months while Ben is away from home serving in the US Army.

Tamara Leilani Guidry was born to Kristina (Kennard) '99 and Ben Guidry.

'00

Class Representative:

VICTORIA TRAN

e-mail: victoria.tran@tufts.edu

Kit Okimoto was recently initiated into the Lawrence University chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Kit is majoring in mathematics.

Rick Malins has been chosen to be a Rhodes Scholar. He will enter the University of Oxford in England in October, on the centennial of the first class of American Rhodes Scholars. Rick is one of four district 8 winners and one of 32 American college students selected as Rhodes Scholars for 2004. Rick is scheduled to graduate from Boston University this spring with degrees in chemistry and neuroscience; he plans to continue his research on Alzheimer's disease in Boston during the summer before leaving for England.

'01

SARA INOUE

sarai524@hotmail.com

SHANNON NOHARA

noharas@onid.orst.edu

Richard S. Carlile will complete his two-year church mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at the end of July 2004. He plans to return to BYU-Provo in the fall.

Marisa Wahl was selected as a USC Annenberg communications honors scholar to study in London, England, this spring semester. The course of study has special emphasis in international and entertainment communications and includes field trips to Paris, Rome, Florence, Athens, Prague, Venice, and Barcelona. As a USC film student, Marisa also hopes to enter her short subject film, which she directed and produced, in the Hawaii Film and Ohana Film Festival in the fall.

Marisa Wahl '01 with Paula Abdul, an American Idol judge.